Potentate's Comments

Randy Weldon
2022 Za-Ga-Zig Potentate

Greetings Nobles and welcome to December,

The first order I must address is my last article from November. I mentioned about electioneering and while I wrote my article while out of town on business, I did not have the actual by-laws in front of me and I misquoted them. You will find the actual by-laws published in this issue of Footprints as is required by Imperial Law. I humbly apologize for my mistake.

I am reflecting on the Month of November at this time and want to thank the Nobles and Ladies that made the events successful.

We had our first Prime Rib and Whiskey Tasting event on November 3rd. We had a great showing of Nobles, Ladies, and Public show up to this event. Hopefully, it will continue into the future as I know many people commented on how much they enjoyed it.

On November 6th, we had our annual Memorial Service. This is a sad time as we remember those that have been visited by the Black Camel over the past year. I want to Thank Tom Robbins and his Lifeline Crew for the wonderful lunch. Also, I want to thank those that participated and assisted with the Memorial Service. Also, I would like to thank Noble Steve Moeckly for playing Amazing Grace on his bagpipes. Wonderful job Steve.

On November 8th, we held our November Stated Meeting and prior to the meeting had a Cold Sands. I want to personally welcome these new Nobles to ZA-GA-ZIG Shrine.

November 12th was the Ladies Auxillary Fall Craft Show. The Shrine Center was packed with various vendors and I know many people were able to complete some of their Christmas shopping. Thank you Ronda Greenfield for once again arranging this event.

Also on the 12th was the Hillbilly Fall Degree. Welcome new members to this great organization as well.

November 18th was our Annual Ladies & Awards Night. Thank you all that attended and thank you to all the Units and Clubs that donated to the various funds. Your donations are greatly appreciated.

November 19th was our Sportsman's Extravaganza. This is quickly becoming one of our major fundraisers for the year and this year did not disappoint. Thank you Joe White and his crew for a wonderful event that supports the Shrine Center.

And finally, the Thanksgiving Dinner on the 24th. This is an annual event that Lou Ann and I started for Nobles or Widows that have limited family in the area but still want to have a Thanksgiving Dinner. We had several show up again this year and we all truly had a great time and are Thankful for many things this year.

Upcoming events will include December 6th, Stated Meeting and Election of 2023 Officers, December 10th, Hospital Dad's Christmas party which is for our Hospital Children and the children and grandchildren of our Nobles, and at the end of the month, our annual New Year's Eve party with Standing Hampton.

Thank you for your time and efforts this year, it has been greatly appreciated.

HELP ~~ HELP Christmas Baskets 2022

Jim Osterquist, Bowler's Unit Basket Chairman

YES~~~We are doing baskets again this year. We are planning on 125 families and we need help with putting baskets together.

Tuesday, December 13th from 8am to completion we will be sorting the grocery items.

Wednesday, December 14th we will fill the boxes for the families. We will have the fruit and vegetables available to sack as well.

On Thursday, December 15th the families will come to the Shrine to pick up their boxes. We will need help in handing them out to keep access to the Temple to a minimum.

Anyone wanting to come out to temple and help, it would be greatly appreciated on all three days.

I will have coffee and lunch on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thank you in advance for all for your help.

Fall Trout Fishing Trip

By Paul Freeman

October 14 – 16 was the Sportsman's Unit Fall Trout Fishing Trip to NE Iowa. The attendance was less than usual, but those who ventured up had fun. We stayed again at Spook Cave & Campground in McGregor.

P.P. Mike Des Des Planque, Guy Freeman and I got up there around noon and we were checked in to our cabin and on the Bloody Run by 1:15pm. In 90 minutes, Guy and Mike caught their limits, with me coming up 1 shy. Mike missed landing a nice 24" brown trout because he did not have a net. These are breeder fish that are no longer able to produce eggs, so they are released into the streams for the anglers. It is extremely rare that a 16" stocked trout will reach that size in the wild.

Later in the afternoon Chief Rabban Kevin Trevillyan, his lady Cindi and son Jack pulled in with their camper. We had dinner at the Casino Queen Buffet in Marquette, a short bonfire at the cabin and the night was over.

Friday we fished just ahead of the cold front and the fish were on bite. Saturday was another story- weather conditions were not in our favor. Rising barometer and bright sun. Mike was the only one who caught his limit, Guy landed one and the remaining caught were too small to keep.

Regardless, it was another fun trip. A few of us will begin making plans for 2023 spring trip soon.

If you would like to be part of the fun, come pay us a visit and learn more about our unit.

Secretary Steve Fedler, PP

Well, looks like the Greens have gone to winter BROWN. And our club will be dark, BUT active in all we do. Always some indoor golf to check out.

2023. We are stepping up to help next year with the Ladies. We will be handling the Corn Feed and the Chicken Noodle dinner, so hope to see all those who have supported the Ladies Auxiliary in the years, continue to support.

Watch for our 2023 season schedule in February issue.

Happy Holidays to All!!

Words from Your Oriental Guide

John Miller Jr, P.P.

October 29, 2022 was a great day for the Za Ga Zig community. A combination of 26 units and clubs participated in a marvelous Halloween event "Trunk or treat".

The day was highlighted with wonderful weather. The community was well represented by three Altoona police cars and officers. The Altoona fire department was not to be outdone. The department brought one fire engine and two ambulances. The Polk County Sheriff's Department brought one vehicle with three officers. All of the participants brought plenty of candy for the steady stream of trick-or-treaters for the event. There was a steady flow of scary ghost, princesses and superstars to delight all of the event participants for the two hour event.

I would like to thank everyone for their help and participation in the trunk or treat event. With the support of everyone this event will be highly anticipated again for next year. Families were able to interact with Shriners and community services in a very positive manner. Everyone should be very proud of themselves and Za-Ga-Zig!

Clowns have distinct personalities. They tend to be artistic individuals, which means they're creative, intuitive, sensitive, articulate, and expressive. They are unstructured, original, nonconforming, and innovative. Some of them are also enterprising, meaning they're adventurous, ambitious, assertive, extroverted, energetic, enthusiastic, confident, and optimistic.

Does this sound like you? The Za Ga Zig clown unit is always on the forefront of community interaction. We represent the Shrine to a lot of folks that really don't know much about our fraternity. We entertain a lot of kids and parents and we have a whole bunch of fun doing it. Through out the year we make appearances at parades, car shows, school fun nights, Shrine events, holiday parties, civic programs and of course our glorious circus.

If this is something you might like to experience please let one of our unit members know.

We are always looking for fun loving, hard working fellows for our group.

Margaret Ludington: A Brief History of Altoona's Shriner Statue

Margaret Ludington
Special to the Herald-Index
Reprinted by permission of the Altoona Herald-Mitchellville Index

"Look, the Shriner statue is back," I exclaimed as Jim and I drove along Adventureland Drive on Sept. 28.

A sculpture of a man wearing the Shriners' signature fez and carrying a child on one arm and a crutch in his other hand has graced the entrance to Shriner's Parkway since sometime in the late 1990s.

Driving to Johnny's for lunch back in early August with our grandchildren Isaac and Lucy, Isaac pointed out that the statue was missing. I had no idea when it might have left. Back when the Za-Ga-Zig Shrine requested to place the iconic symbol at the street entrance leading to their property, it raised some controversy.

"The ordinance said you couldn't have that," former mayor Tim Burget explained. "I wasn't concerned what they were putting in, but what can of worms you were opening. It was the precedent it could set."

For those who may not know, the Shrine is an international men's fraternal organization that is part of the Masonic group. It dates to the 1870s when a couple of men thought the fad for all things Middle Eastern popular at the time would make a good basis for a club, thus the vaguely Middle Eastern sounding club names, the fez, buildings like the pyramid in Altoona. A quick look at the organization's website indicates the purposes of fellowship, fun and philanthropy.

The main philanthropy is the network of Shrine hospitals and clinics for treating children with orthopedic conditions and burns regardless of ability to pay. The Shriner statue, known as "The Silent Messenger," symbolizes that cause.

In 1970 a Shriner noticed a 5-year-old girl with cerebral palsy struggling to get around an amusement park in Indiana. He scooped her up on one arm and held her crutches in his other hand and carried her to the rides. A photographer captured the image on film. That image became the basis of the statues.

Placing a statue on Shriner's Parkway required a variance to the ordinance. Burget prepared to speak against the variance. The late attorney Ed Skinner spoke on behalf of the Shrine first.

"He starts talking about how the Shrine came here, what a big supporter I was," Burget recalled. "When he got done, if I'd opened my mouth, I'd have looked stupid."

No other groups asked for a similar variance. The city's "Woven Lines" sculpture is the first placed in a public right-of-way since "The Silent Messenger."

Margaret Ludington has lived in Altoona since 1971. She is a retired staff writer and editorial writer for the Herald-Index. Margaret is a mother of two, grandmother of four. She and her husband travel frequently and have visited every state except Alaska and five Canadian provinces.
